

Electronic Communications Consent Disclosure

Effective Date: November 22, 2024

This Electronic Communications Consent Disclosure (“Disclosure”) outlines the binding terms under which you, the consumer (“you”), agree to receive certain disclosures, notices, and communications from Bushel Exchange, LLC (“we,” “our,” or “us”) electronically, as required by the Electronic Signatures in Global and National Commerce Act (“ESIGN Act”).

Please read this Disclosure carefully. By consenting, you agree to receive disclosures and notices electronically, and to enter into agreements and transactions with us using electronic signatures.

Consent to Receive Electronic Communications

By providing your consent, you agree to receive certain disclosures, notices, agreements, and communications (collectively, “Communications”) from us electronically. These Communications may relate to us or our third-party providers and include but are not limited to:

- Account disclosures: such as account statements, transaction details, payment reminders, or balance updates.
- Legal disclosures: such as privacy policy updates, terms of service, and notices required by applicable laws.
- Other communications: including marketing offers, service updates, and promotional materials.

You agree that we may deliver these Communications via email, website notifications, or other electronic means.

We reserve the right, at our sole discretion, to discontinue the provision of electronic Communications, or to terminate or change the terms and conditions upon which electronic Communications are provided. We will provide you with notice via email, mobile app or online account, of any such termination or change as required by law.

Electronic Delivery and Access to Communications

You acknowledge and agree that:

- We will deliver Communications electronically via email to the address you have provided, or by making them available on our website or within our mobile app.
- You are responsible for checking your email and account for any electronic Communications we send and updating your email addresses with us.
- To access, view, and retain the Communications, you will need access to the necessary hardware device with an internet connection with the required browser software to access your email account, our website, and the links we may provide. You will also need the ability to view PDF or HTML documents (e.g., Adobe Acrobat Reader, a web browser).

You understand that if you do not have the necessary technology or access, you may not be able to receive or view the Communications.

Right to Withdraw Consent

You have the right to withdraw your consent to receive Communications electronically at any time. If you withdraw your consent, we may discontinue or limit your access to certain products or services and may provide paper versions of the Communications (where applicable), subject to fees or other charges for paper copies as stated in our terms and conditions.

To withdraw your consent, please contact us at support@bushelwallet.com or through the settings in your account. Please note that withdrawing consent may affect your ability to use certain features of our services.

Updating Your Contact Information

It is your responsibility to ensure that the contact information you have provided, such as email addresses, is accurate and up to date. If your email address or other contact details change, you must update your information by logging into your account or notifying us directly at support@bushelwallet.com.

Acknowledgment of Electronic Signatures

By providing your consent electronically, you acknowledge and agree that your electronic signature will be valid and binding. You understand that clicking "I Agree" or otherwise providing your consent to this Disclosure will have the same legal effect as signing a document by hand.

Consent

By applying for or using a product or service or by checking any call to action (including “I Agree” or similar language), you give us affirmative consent to receive electronic Communications as described herein.

By providing your consent, you are confirming that you have the necessary hardware and software technology described above, that you are able to receive and review electronic Communications, and that you have an active email account. You are also confirming that you are authorized to, and in fact do, consent on behalf of yourself, the business you represent, and all other persons identified with the products and services that you are accessing or using.
